Sam Gourley

Paediatric Occupational Therapist

Hi, my name is Sam Gourley and I am a Paediatric Occupational Therapist and founder of Collaborative Partnerships. We offer a comprehensive allied health and early intervention service. We aim to support all children, so that they can engage in all the fun and learning that childhood has to offer.

I am particularly passionate about supporting children with disabilities in educational settings.

For a child with special needs to be available for learning, they first need to have their additional physical, emotional, and sensory needs met. Furniture plays an important role in this, and that's why I am pleased to partner with BFX for their Inclusive Education Initiative.

Look inside this brochure to discover inclusive education products that I have recommended.

Favourite Piece of Inclusive Furniture?

I love the Hideaway Booths! They offer great sensory support and would be excellent as a focused work or chill out space in a classroom.

Fun fact about Sam Gourley?

I live on the Sunshine Coast with my wife and 5 children. I am also an avid video blogger and love sharing child development tips.

BFX CASE STUDY

Endeavour Hills Specialist School

Project Description

Endeavour Hills Specialist School is a new, state-of-the-art school in Melbourne's southeast. It is designed to meet the needs of autistic students with a language disorder, and intellectually disabled students ranging from mild to severe.

The schools' vision is, "To inspire students to achieve their personal best and become active and independent members of their community."

BFX supplied a range of inclusive learning furniture that met the unique requirements of the school. Wipeable surfaces, rounded corners and height adjustable furniture were chosen to best-fit the students needs.

Principal Susan Coull discussed furniture that supports the school's teaching methods.

“Agile, flexible furniture allows us to create corners for reading, or a structure for circle time. As a school for children on the spectrum and children with intellectual disability, it has been great having flexible furniture so children don't get fixated on this is my chair, this is my table, and this is where it will always be. We are able to move things around and encourage flexible thinking through the furniture.”
